New Trail Constructed: 2640 yds
Habitat Protected: 109 acres

Austin's Environmental Corps, Trails Across Texas Crew constructed 1.5 miles of new trail at Palmetto State Park in Gonzalez, Texas. In addition to new trail construction, the crew also resurfaced another half mile of trail with decomposed granite.

Through careful pedestrian traffic management and erosion control, the trail protects 109 acres of parkland while encouraging more families and bike riders to experience the unique palmetto, savannah and woodland habitats within the park.
